Nigel Howard MIDI ECIA, Managing Director, Nigel Howard Creative

The project had a tight timetable and Kore Fitout was able to meet our expectations. The quality of the work was highly professional and for those unexpected project adjustments typical to any historic building project, Kore Fitout met the challenges and adjusted in a highly satisfactory manner.

Our Services

Ireland's premier specialists in Hotel and Pub fitouts.

As the leading hotel and pub fit-out company in Ireland, we have extensive experience and craftsmanship in providing fit-outs, structural upgrades, and refurbishments within the hospitality and leisure industry. Our goal is to deliver the highest quality results for your project or your client's project.

Each fit-out project we undertake is unique and tailored to our client's specific business requirements.

We have provided pub, hotel, and various other leisure facility fit-outs for both large and small independent businesses, as well as nationwide hotel chains throughout Ireland. Our services cover all hotel areas, from receptions, bedrooms, public walkways, and bathrooms to bars, meeting rooms, and dining areas.

As team players, we collaborate with numerous professionals in the architectural and interior design industries. Through our partnerships on various projects, we have engaged with talented professionals who share our vision of delivering exceptional work.

One provider for all your needs

We not only cater to the public areas in pubs and hotels but also to all of your facilities, including kitchens, back offices, staff canteens and lodgings, and access areas. Our aim is to help our clients create a layout that maximizes efficiency while providing a pleasant work environment and enhancing customer experience.

Time is money

We understand the cost of closing your doors to the public or reducing footfall due to closed areas of your hotel or bar. Therefore, we do everything possible to ensure minimal disruption to your business.

Our process is designed for each project based on what we can do before site work starts. We schedule our teams to maximize time on site and always strive to complete our tasks within targets and on schedule. If we discover opportunities to reduce time on site during the project, we will implement them into the fit-out and aim to finish our work promptly, leaving the highest quality finish that we know you will love.

Communication and transparency

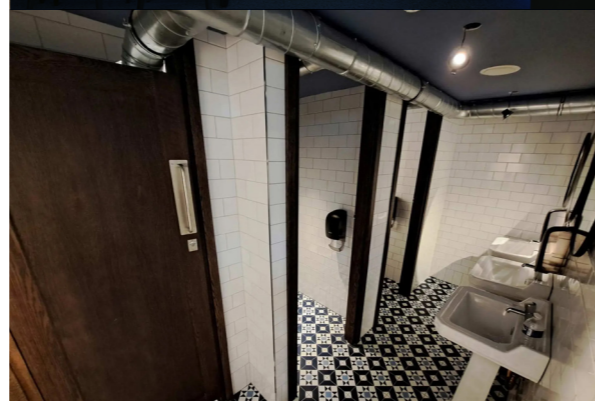

We will involve you in all phases of the project during the planning stages and throughout the process. Our senior team is available on-site and by phone to discuss any aspect of your project or address any questions or concerns you may have.
